Measures That Have Become Laws Through the Instrumentality of the Texas Delegation.

The Boys Rave Accomplished Nearly Every thing Down on Their Programme Before the Seguion Began-

Special to the Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 .- The complexion of the next delegation from Texas in congress will not differ, except in two lustances, from its present representation. Judge Hare and Judge Mar. tin are the exceptions, both having been defeated. Advices received here privately state that Bailey will make a very good congressman. He is especially noted for his powers as an orator and no doubt after he has won his spurs in the national legislative halls, he will make himself beard. Everyone here regrets the retirement of Judge Hare. He has made most excellent representative and is well thought of here.

Judge Martin will also be missed. While he has not made many speeches and is seldom heard in debate, he has in a silent way accomplished considerable for his constituents. He will r tire to his farm and renew his agricultural pursuits He has made many friends here who will regret his departure.

Mr. Lanham has been most industrious this session, and among other things he has accomplished of local interest may be mentioned the passage of the bill for the settlement of the Greer county boundary. This is now under adjudication by civil process of law.

Judge Abbott has succeeded in getting a bill through, after much hard labor and many vicissitudes for a public building at Fort Worth, besides passing many other measures of interest to his con-

Sayers, a valued and laporious member of the committee on appropria-SCHOOL BOOKS and SUPPLIES tions, has accomplished the passage of the border indemnity claims for Texas. by which nearly $1,000,000 has been paid over to the state. Other local measures have also, through his efforts, received invorable consideration.

Judge Culberson and Judge Hare have been largely useful in the matter of transferring the jurisdiction of certain Texas courts and courts in the Cherokee Nation.

Col. Kilgore has kept his end up well in local legislation, and the attempts of his adversaries to decry his usefulness as a valued member from Texas have met with small favor with his constituents, who have renominated him for the next congress. Were any vindication necessary this indorsement, it would seem, is all sufficient.

Mr. Crain has paid more attention perhaps to the subject of deep water at Galveston, which is now an assured fact. He has been watchful and diplomatic in the part be has taken in this important the Public and to whom it may concern, and especially to Manufacturers and Dealers in Plasterin; Materials—

Know ye, that there is but one "Acme Cement Pisster" in the United States. It is manufactured at Cympsum City, Kansas, by the Saline County Plaster Co. There can be no other material lawfully handled under that name, because the und raigned Company have a Patent Trade Mark on that name, and no one else has the right to use it. Neither to use the word "Acme" in connection with any plustering material. Such patent registration of Trade Mark was made by the U. S. government authorities at Washington, D. C., dated the 1st day of July, A. D., 180, and continues for thirty years. All pe sons are therefore notified not to in any way use, or abet, or aid, advise or assist in using said name, "Acme Cement Plaster," or any portion of it, in connection with any plastering material. All persons doing so will infringe upon said parties! Trade Mark, and will be held accountable in law and promptly prosecuted therefor. [Signed.] The Saline County Plaster Company, by John H. Prescott, president. Attest: E. Tupper, socretary. matter, and deserves full meed of approbation for his efforts. The question of a military post at Eagle Pass also received his earnest support, and this matter will probably be favorably determined next

Mr. Mills has, of course, naturally paid more attention to the tariff than any other subject, and latterly has done yeoman service for his party on his tours in the Western states. He is in great demend as a speaker of force and in-fluence, and if not over-worked by his too zealous friends will be of incalculable benefit to his party in the coming cam-

Col. Stewart is a valued member of the committee on rivers and harbors, here he has carefully guarded the interests of the Texas water ways. He is entirely familiar with all legislation connected with improvements of this nature and his counsel is often sought by his colleagues. He has moreover been successful in passing other measures of local interests and is a "big" man in more

Mr. Moore's work on the election committee and his participation in the debates regarding the election contests in the house show him to be an assute lawyer, and he could not have had a better assignment than his present one. This is a brief resume of the work of the Texas delegation in congress this session. Of course there are many measures which cannot now be recalled, that have become laws through the instrumentality of one or more of the delegation. To accurately record every bill passed by the individual efforts of the delegation would occupy too much valued space in THE GAZETTE. It is sufficient to say that the Texas delegation with the aid of its senators have accomplished nearly everything which was "on the cards'' before the present session began. Later on the work of the Texas senators of this session will be reviewed.

The Week in Congress.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 .- The conference report on the river and harbor bill will be presented to the senate early in the week and its consideration asked for. The question may be disposed of promptbut if it seems li lead to an extended bate the report will be laid naide, and the discussion of the tariff bill proceeded with. The debate on measure will close Saturday, and the day will be given up to motions to pass measures under suspension of the rules, including the senste resolution providing tor the removal of Gen. Grant's remains to Arlington.

The Clayton-Breckinridge election case will probably come up Tuesday and the debate in connection with it is expected to be of an interesting character. After the election case has been disposed of it is the intention to set apart a day for the transaction of business pertaining to the district of Columbia.

After Particulars of the Shooting of Gen.

Barrundia. WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 .- The state department has taken measures to secure full particulars of the shooting of Gen. Barrundia on board an American vessel lying in the port of San Jose by officers

TEXAS' DELEGATION of the Gustemalan government, and until the exact facts and circumstances connected with the affair are known it Brief Resume of the Work of the Mizener. A case involving an identical principle with that of General Barrundia occurred in Nicaraugua in 1885, and in that case Secretary Bayard informed our minister to Central America that the Nicaraguan government had the right to take the man wanted from on board an American merchant vessel, provided she were in Nicaraguan waters. The case was that of Jose Gomez. In a letter dated Guatemala, February 10, 1885, the minister had informed Secretary Frelinghuysen that he had been informed that the Guatemalan government proposed to take from on board the Pacific mail steamer Honduras, then lying in the San Juan Del Sur, a passenger named Gomez in transit for Panama, but wanted in Nicaragus to answer the charge of being implicated in the recent insurrection in that country. Minister Hall said he had directed our consul at Managua to inform the Nicaraguan government that has never consented, and will never consent to the removal from an American vessel in a foreign port of any passenger in transit, much less if the offense is political. The captain of the vessel did not give up the man, and sailed out of port without securing the proper clearance papers. He was tried and convicted tor this by the Nicaraguan authorities. The case came before the state department in this way and it held that Minister Hall had not noted according to law. In his letter to Minister Hall which is dated March 12, 1885, Secretary Bayard says: "It appears that Gomez voluntarily took passage on the vessel, knowing it would enter en route a Nicaraguan port. It may safely be affirmed that when a merchant vessel of one country visits a port of another for the purpose of trade it owes temporary allegiance and is amenable to the jurisdiction of that country and is subject to the laws which govern the port it visits so long as it remains, unless it is otherwise provided by treaty. Any exemption or immunity from legal jurisdiction must be derived from the consent of that country.''

It is said cases have frequently occurred in which revolutionists and others wanted for offenses of one character another have by the Hawaiian government while in British merchant ships and that Great Britain has not protested, thus establishing diplomatic precedents. Had the vessel been a man-of-war, Barrundia would not have been subject to jurisdiction, as war vessels carry everywhere the jurisdiction of the country whose flag they fly. The Barrundia affair differs from the others in that the man was shot, but the right to seize being conceded, the right to kill, if made, is an principle of is established principle inw. The principal criticism made in diplomatic circles of Minister Mizener's course is that of unnecessary interference. It is suggested he might have simply stated to the Guatemalans that they seized the man at their own risk, but on this point it is thought well to await knowledge of exactly what the minister said and did before pronouncing judgment upon his conduct.

Largest Traveling Crane in the World. WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 .- The largest traveling crane in the world, which a corps of machinists and mechanical engineers have been for several weeks setting up in the gun-shop at the navy yard here, is now in practical operation. While differing in many points from the smaller traveling cranes which have been in use in the ordnance shop, it is constructed on the same general principle. It has a lifting capacity of 110 tons and tests made a few days ago in the presence of the secretaries of war and navy and other government officials were very satisfactory.

Spanish Cruiser Christened.

BILBOA, Aug. 31 .- Queen Regen! Christiana accompanied by her prime minister Senor Canavas Del Castillo, arrived here to-day from Saint Zebastian. There was a large crowd of spectators at the station when the royal train arrived and the queen received a hearty welcome. Proceeding to the Anglo-Spanish navy vard at Portugalete the queen witnessed the launching of the new Spanish cruiser which she christened "Inanta Maria. '' After the ceremony her majasty and the prime minister resumed to Saint Zebastian.

A Young Forger Caught.

Special to the Gazette. MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 31 .- Edgar N. Mayer, 17 years old, representing himself as the son of Dr. D. Mayer of Charleston, W. Va., succeeded yesterday in getting a draft cashed to which he had forged the name of J. C. Rich, mayor of this city. He had tried the draft at the First national bank without success. The amount of the draft was $185. The mayor learning at the First national bank that his name was on the paper the bank had refused, set the police to work, and Mayer was arrested and $170 recovered. Young Mayer said he had drawn all the money be could from his father, and thought to make a raise in a new direction. He is recently Italy and France Disagree.

LONDON, Aug. 31 .- The Italian and French governments have failed to agree regarding the formalities attending the proposed visit of the French squadron to Spezia to do honor to King Humbert on the occasion of the launching of the new Italian war ship at that point. In consequence of this the king has decided not to go to Spezia, but to send the duke of Genoa to represent him at the launching of the vessel. ALTOONA, PA., Aug. 31 .- While walking in the eastern part of the city at an early hour this morning Sam Franels, a prominent bricklayer, was brusaulted by three footpads and robbed of a large sum of money. In the struggle his tongue was torn from its place and he was unable to speak when found. His recovery is doubtful.

CHAUNCY M. DEPEW.

He will Give the Arbitrators a Chance to Question Him.

The Failure of the Strike Destroys the Power of the Knights of Labor As an Organization.

The Board Can't Reinstate the Hen Discharged or Discharge the Men Employed to Fill the Strikers Places.

ON HIS WAY HOME.

Special to the Gazette.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 .- A special from London to the World says: Mr. Chauncey Depew is here again, homeward bound. He expects to arrive in New York in time to tell the state board of arbitration that he knows positively nothing about the Central strike or the causes which led to it, provided the board is disposed to call him as a witness. Depew declares decidedly he will not discuss his opinions with the board, though he is quite willing to tell them what lew facts he knows about the difficulty. He says that his latest official information is that the strike is DEAD AND BURIED. He says further that while he has not looked closely into the law governarbitrators, has no doubt that they have the right to inquire into the cause of the strike if they see fit to do so; aut they have no powers to impose any obligations on the Central road as the result of their inquiry. They cannot compel the railroad to reinstate the men discharged, or to discharge the men employed in the place of the strikers. Mr. Depew does not think that any inquiry by a purely political board, who will depend on getting on the popular side of the dispute in order to hold their places, promises well for careful consideration and judicial decision on the interests of the Central railway company or any other corporation. He says that any board possessing absolute JUDICIAL POWER TO ARBITRATE between a large corporation and its employes, should be as carefully selected and as far removed from popular political pressure as is a court of appeals or even more so. Mr. Depew believes that the failure of this strike utterly destroys the power of the Knights of Labor as an orga nization, while it strengthens the hands of trades unions and the Federation of Labor.

"So long as labor disputes are coufined to trades unions," said Mr. De-pew, "it is comparatively easier to reach some agreement because then you can deal with the workmen who understand the trade and know what they are talking about. In dealing with a Knights of Labor committee you could make no more impression upon them than you could ON A GLASS BALL when rolling it around in your hand. They did not understand what you were Knights committee which called upon me once to discuss a very intricate question of railway management was a driver. I knew of another case in which a serious strike among glass blowers was ordered by a tailor who happened to be the Knights' master workman in the district where the trouble arose."

Depew said further that he had sound ssurances from home that the only dis sension among the Republicans on the McKinley bill was on Blaine's reciprocity policy, and that the majority were rapidly coming round to Mr. Blaine's TO LOOK AFTER THE KNIGHTS' INTERESTS.

Special to the Gazette.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 .- Gen. Roger A. Pryor was vesterday retained by the general executive board of the Knights of Labor to look after its interests in the investigation before the state board of mediation and arbitration which begins its session on Tuesday.

A MORTAL THRUST.

Two Young Men Quarrel Over the Sub-Treasury Bill-One is Stabbed. Special to the Gazette.

TEXARKANA, TEX., Aug. 31 .- Two young men, named Arnold and Henry, residing in Miller county, near this city. came to town vesterday and just before night left for home. They were discussing the sub-treasury bill when they left, and it appears when they got into the suburbs they dismounted to have a fist fight. During the struggle Eli Arnold, brother to one of the belligerents, under the pretense of separating them, stabbed Herring in the side inflicting a mortal wound. All the parties are respectable young men and are neighbors. Arnold made his escape. Bass Barfield, who assassinated Dr. Lee at New Boston last winter and made his escape, was arrested in Fannia county and will be brought here and placed in jail. Graves, the colored man who killed

Officers Appointed and Resolutions Adopted at Their Meeting in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug 30 .- The factory inspection continues their labor to-day. A resolution was adopted changing the name of the body from national inspectors of public buildings and factories to the international inspectors of factories. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Rufus B. Wade of Massachusetts, president; William Mc-Donald of Ohio and John T. Raney of New York, vice-president; Isaac Smullen, secretary and treasurer, and W. S. Simmons, assistant secretary On motion of Chief Connelley, Mr. Robert Barker of Toronto and Mrs. N. B. McEnery of Pennsylvania were also made vice-presidents. The committee on resolutions and recommendations presented an elaborately prepared paper, complimentary to the inspectors in their work and expressing pleasure at the disposition on the part of factory employes to conform to | temperature.

the various factory laws. The committee also urged that efforts be made to have the state legislatures pass laws compelling all children under fourteen years, unable to read or write, to attend school, and that no woman or girl shall be employed later than 9 p. m., or earlier than 6 p. m., and no minor shall work more than ten hours a day sixty hours a week; laws be passed providing that at least 250 cubic feet of air during the day and 400 at night be had in every workshop. They recommend that the guardings of all machines and the erection of fire escapes be provided for by laws as well as that all public buildings may be as near fire proof as possible. A copy of the recommendations will be sent to the governor and legislatures of all the states. The convention then adjourned

FRANCE UNEASY.

Comments of the French Press on the Effects of the McKinley Bill.

The Report that German and English Manufacturers Were About to Hove Their Plants to America Untrue-

SCARED AND MAD.

Special to the Gazette. LONDON, Aug. 31 .- The chief topic of discussion in the French press continues to be the tariff dispute with America. The articles show great wariety of opinion as to the proper course to be pursued by the government and some of the writers -advocate a bold policy of self protection regardless of possible retaliation by the United States, while others betray an almost ludicrous terror lest France should lose American custom for some of her most important products. These latter beseech the government not to do anything to anger the Washington government. Among the former class of journals is La Liberte, which says that the resolu-tion in the American senate authorizing the president to exclude the products of any country that discriminates against American products

WITHOUT FRENCH WINES.
The best classes in the United States would protest against being deprived of that and other luxuries and necessaries supplied by France. The whole topic is a burning one for French producers,

The English merchandise marks act has greatly injured French trade with Great Britain, as French goods can no longer be sold as of English manufacture, and the American tariff bill has put the French in a still unhappler frame of mind.

The appointment of the duke of Clarence and Avondale to Sir Baker Russell's staff will not now be made. The young prince's indisposition come of so serious a nature that te is deemed inexpedient to expose him to the rough field-work incidental to the discharge of the duties of aide-de-camp during the cavalry maneuvers. The exact nature of the heir presumptive's illness has not yet been satisfactorily determined. NO MIGRATING PACTORIES. The statement recently gained circulation that some manufacturers in Germany, who have hitherto been largely engaged in producing goods for the United States market were making arrangements to transfer their works increased duty which seems to be assured on such goods by the pending McKinley tariff bill. A Berlin correspondent states that he has been at some palus to search for the facts, and has falled to discover any corroboration of the rumor. The senior member of one of the firms whose names have been mentioned as among the probable emigrants told the writer that there was NO TRUTH IN THE REPORT so far as that firm was concerned, and he believed that exceedingly few, if any, of the other firms would transfer their business to America for the cause mentioned. He considered it unsafe to take such an important step in the absence of any guarantee that the high duties now adopted would be maintained beyond two years' time, the remainder of the present administration. The same report included a statement that certain English manufacurers of linen and other goods were also contemplating to migrate to the United States. Diligent inquiry thus far has failed to unearth any such firms in England. The large investments of English capital in the United States during recent years, it is worthy of note, have been mainly in lines of industry, which like brewing, are nearly, it not quite,

Satisfied with the Interviews,

ST. PRTERSBURG, Aug. 31 .- M. de Glers, Russian minister of foreign affairs, in receiving several diplomats yesterday, expressed himself as completely satisfied with the result of the recent interviews between the czar and the Emperor William. The meeting, he said, constituted a fresh and solemn affirmation of the good relations existing between Russia and Germany and would certainly contribute powerfully towards the maintenance of the peace of Europe.
